From Saturday April 26, to Tuesday April 29, 1746.

Whitehall, April 29.

THIS Day an Express arrived from Edinburgh, with the following Advices.

Edinburgh, April 26. The Victory obtained over the Rebels by his Royal Highness the Duke, appears every Day to be more and more compleat and decisive.

Thursday Morning about Three of the Clock, being the Day after the Battle, the Pretender's Son, with Sheridan and Sullivan, and no other Attendants or Servants, was seen passing Fort Augustus in his Way to Glengary. Fort Augustus is burnt and blown up, and there is neither Garrison nor Provisions there.

On Saturday the 19th, Lord Perth, and his Brother called Lord John Drummond, were at Garricmore, within 12 Miles of Fort Augustus, on their Way to Lochabar, attended only by their Servants. The latter order'd the French Horse of Fitz James's Regiment, who had followed the Pretender's Son and him out of the Battle, to return to Inverness, and surrender themselves Prisoners: And the general and last Order given by the Rebel Officers to their Men, was to shift for themselves.

The Macphersons were not at the Battle, but were that Day on their March to Inverness, and upon meeting the Rebels running away from the Action, they returned to their own Country.

Lord Elcho was at the Battle, and went off with the Pretender's Son, but afterwards they separated.

Orders are given along the Coast to prevent any of the Rebels from making their Escape by Sea.

The Illuminations and publick Rejoicing here, on Occasion of his Royal Highness's Victory, exceeded all that were ever seen in these Parts.

Venice, April 20, N. S. The continual hard Rains which have fallen lately, have probably retarded both the Operations of the Campaign, and our receiving Information from the Armies. A Report prevails, that the Spaniards have begun to withdraw their Cannon from Placentia, and that they are preparing to retreat themselves by Stradella towards the Genoese State; but as yet there is no authentick Confirmation of it.

Assurance Office, Serjeants Inn, April 26, 1746.

A General Quarterly Court of the Corporation of the Amicable Society for a Perpetual Assurance Office, will be held at their House in Serjeants-Inn, Fleet street, on Thursday the First of May next, at Ten of the Clock in the Forenoon, for the Election of Directors for the Year ensuing.

Whitehall, April 26, 1746.

This Afternoon a Messenger arrived from the Duke of Cumberland, with the following Particulars of the Victory obtained by his Royal Highness over the Rebels, on Wednesday the 16th Instant near Culloden.

Published by Authority.

Inverness, April 18.

On Tuesday the 15th the Rebels burnt Fort Augustus, which convinced us of their Resolution to stand an Engagement with the King's Troops. We gave our Men a Day's Halt at Nairn, and on the 16th marched from thence, between Four and Five, in four Columns. The three Lines of Foot (reckoning the Reserve for one) were broken into three from the Right, which made the three Columns equal, and each of five Battalions. The Artillery and Baggage followed the first Column upon the Right, and the Cavalry made the fourth Column on the Left.

After we had marched about eight Miles, our advanced Guard, composed of about forty of Kingston's, and the Highlanders led by the Quarter-Master-General, perceived the Rebels at some Distance making a Motion towards us on the Left, upon which we immediately formed; but, finding the Rebels were still a good Way from us, and that the whole Body did not come forward, we put ourselves again upon our March in our former Posture, and continued it to within a Mile of them, where we again formed in the same Order as before. After reconnoitring their Situation, we found them posted behind some old Walls and Huts, in a Line with Culloden House. As we thought our Right entirely secure, General Hawley and General Bland went to the Left with the two Regiments of Dragoons, to endeavour to fall upon the right Flank of the Rebels, and Kingston's Horse was ordered to the Reserve. The ten Pieces of Cannon were disposed, two in each of the Intervals of the first Line, and all our Highlanders (except about one Hundred and Forty which were upon the Left with General Hawley, and who behaved extremely well) were left to guard the Baggage.

When we were advanced within 500 Yards of the Rebels, we found the Morass upon our Right was ended, which left our right Flank quite uncovered to them; His Royal Highness thereupon immediately order'd Kingston's Horse from the Reserve, and a little Squadron of about Sixty of Cobham's which had been patrolling, to cover our Flank; and Pulteney's Regiment was order'd from the Reserve to the Right of the Royals.

We spent above half an Hour after that, trying which should gain the Flank of the other; and His Royal Highness having sent Lord Bury forward within a Hundred Yards of the Rebels, to reconnoitre somewhat that appeared like a Battery to us, they thereupon began firing their Cannon, which was extremely ill serv'd and ill pointed: Ours immediately answer'd them, which began their Confusion. They then came running on in their wild Manner; and upon the Right, where His Royal Highness had placed himself, imagining the greatest Push would be there, they came down three several Times within a Hundred Yards of our Men, firing their Pistols and brandishing their Swords; but the Royals and Pulteney's hardly took their Firelocks from their Shoulders, so that after those faint Attempts they made off; and the little Squadrons on our Right were sent to pursue them. General Hawley had, by the Help of our Highlanders, beat down two little Stone Walls, and came in upon the right Flank of their second Line.

As their whole first Line came down to attack at once, their right somewhat out flanked Barrel's Regiment, which was our Left, and the greatest Part of the little Loss we sustained, was there; but Blight's and Sempil's giving a Fire upon those who had out flanked Barrel's, soon repulsed them, and Barrel's Regiment and the Left of Monroe's fairly beat them with their Bayonets: There was scarce a Soldier or Officer of Barrel's, and of that Part of Monroe's which engaged, who did not kill one or two Men each with their Bayonets and Spontoons.

The Cavalry, which had charged from the Right and Left, met in the Center; except two Squadrons of Dragoons, which we missed, and they were gone in Pursuit of the Runaways: Lord Ancram was order'd to pursue with the Horse as far as he could; and did it with so good Effect, that a very considerable Number was killed in the Pursuit.

As we were in our March to Inverness, and were near arrived there, Major General Bland sent the annexed Papers, which he received from the French Officers and Soldiers surrendering themselves Prisoners, to his Royal Highness. Major General Bland had also made great Slaughter, and took about 50 French Officers and Soldiers Prisoners, in his Pursuit.

By the best Calculation that can be made, 'tis thought the Rebels lost 2000 Men upon the Field of Battle, and in the Pursuit. We have here 222 French, and 326 Rebel Prisoners, as will appear by Lists hereunto annexed. Lieutenant Colonel Howard killed an Officer, who appeared to be Lord Strathallan, by the Seal, and different Commissions from the Pretender found in his Pocket.

'Tis said Lord Perth, Lord Nairn, Lochiel, Keppock, and Appin Stuart, are also killed. All their Artillery and Ammunition, of which a List is also annexed, were taken, as well as the Pretender's and all their Baggage. There were also 12 Colours taken.

All the Generals, Officers, and Soldiers, did their utmost in his Majesty's Service, and shewed the greatest Zeal and Bravery on this Occasion.

The Pretender's Son, it is said, lay at Lord Lovat's House at Aird, the Night after the Action. Brigadier Mordaunt is detached with 900 Volunteers this Morning into the Frazier's Country, to attack all the Rebels he may find there. Lord Sutherland's and Lord Reay's People continue to exert themselves, and have taken upwards of 100 Rebels, who are sent for; and there is great Reason to believe Lord Cromarty, and his Son, are also taken. The Monro's have kill'd Fifty of the Rebels in their Flight. As it is not known, where the greatest Bodies of them are, or which Way they have taken in their Flight, his Royal Highness has not yet determined which Way to march. On the 17th, as his Royal Highness was at Dinner, three Officers, and about sixteen of Fitz James's Regiment, who were mounted, came and surrender'd themselves Prisoners.

The kill'd, wounded, and missing of the King's Troops, (as by the annex'd List,) amount to above 300.

The French Officers will be all sent to Carlisle, till his Majesty's Pleasure shall be known.

The Rebels, by their own Accounts, make their Loss greater by two Thousand than we have stated it. Four of their principal Ladies are in Custody, viz. Lady Ogilvie, Lady Kinloch, Lady Gordon, and the Laird of M'Intosh's Wife. Major Grant, the Governor of Inverness, is retaken; and the Generals Hawley, Lord Albermarle, Huske and Bland, have Orders to enquire into the Reasons for his Surrendring of Fort George.

P. S. Lord Cromarty, Lord M'Cleod his Son, with other Prisoners, according to the inclosed List, are just brought in from Sutherland by the Hound Sloop, which his Royal Highness had sent for them, and they are just now Landing.

Translation of a Letter from the Officers in the Service of his most Christian Majesty, who were at Inverness the Day of the Battle of Culloden, to Major General Bland.

Inverness, April 16,

S I R,

THE French Officers and Soldiers, who are at Inverness, surrender themselves Prisoners to his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, and hope for every Thing which is to be expected from the English Generosity.
